Prof. Babcock

Havilah Babcock, Professor of English and Journalism at the College of William and Mary and Editor of the revived Virginia Gazette, will broadcast over station WRVA of Richmond, Va., this evening at 9:30 on the celebration of the sesquicentennial anniversary of the passage of the Virginia Resolutions and the contributions of Virginia toward national independence.

Reviewing the significance of the Virginia Resolutions, Professor Babcock will state that the action of the Virginia Convention in Williamsburg May 15, 1776, dispelled existing doubt and served to reassure the wavering colonists. He will also state that the Declaration of Independence was conceived by a Virginia lawyer, drafted by a Virginia lawyer, and defended by a Virginia soldier, and that the famous document was not signed on July 4th as commonly accepted.

PRINTER USES GOLDEN RULE

Sharing of Profits Builds Business, He Says.

Seattle, Wash.—The Golden Rule in a printing establishment may be comparatively new, but Clint W. Lee, Seattle specialty printer, believes he has proved it a success in the ten years he has operated under this system.

Twenty-four years ago, Lee started business on a small scale, assisted by a printer and a $6-a-week boy. Ten years ago he first began to share his profits with his son and with his press man.

Since then he has gradually developed his co-operative plan, and last year distributed $4,700 in profits among the thirty-five men and women on his pay roll. Moreover, he has made money.

The Christian printer, as Lee is known in Seattle, said he has no cut and dried plan which can be applied in any business. His policy is the result of year to year experiment in his own plant. He has seen fit to divide 30 per cent of the net income of the plant with his employees besides paying union wages or better and giving a week's vacation yearly with pay. His minimum wage for experienced girls is $20 a week and only two receive no little as that.

Group life insurance on the employees is paid for entirely by the company and one-third of the cost of health and accident insurance. Every employee is given an opportunity to buy stock in the concern on easy terms.

One of the new human element features of Lee's policy is a 20-minute chapel service every Monday morning on the company's time. Lee, who was elected chaplain, starts the exercises at eight o'clock with a prayer.

BEST OF FIDDLERS

James A. Claffy of Boston, seventy years old, who won the international fiddling contest at Lewiston, Maine, and the cup and $1,000 that went with it. Mr. Claffy competed against the best fiddlers of many countries.

Court Presentation in England More Difficult

London.—Obtaining a presentation to the king and queen is becoming such a task that even English folk of high rank have to resort to subterfuges to obtain a court presentation for their own children. So many foreigners are claiming the right of presentation nowadays that, even though their majesties hold four courts instead of two in a season, the Englishborn debutante has difficulty in getting into the presence of her sovereigns.

Hundreds of applications were received by the lord chamberlain this year. Already the unsuccessful applicants are registering for next year. Many parents whose daughters do not reach the debutante age of eighteen before 1927 or 1928, have made applications for the year in which their daughters shall be old enough. The lord chamberlain has received these applications but not accepted them, for he fears that if such a precedent is set, soon applications for presentation will be filed as soon as a baby girl is born in stegible families. American mothers are quick to follow this lead. The American embassy already has application for the courts of 1927 and 1928.

Americans Big Losers in Casinos of France

Nice, France.—It is estimated that American visitors lost 32,240,000 francs in the Riviera casinos last year. The "kitties" of the various casinos amounted to 85,100,000 francs, 40 per cent of which is figured to have come from American pocketbooks.

The municipal casino of Cannes led all the others in paying local and state taxes on a total bank's percentage of 2,304,000 francs. The municipal casino of Nice was second with 26,280,000 francs, while the other casino at Nice, the Promenade Jetty casino, was third with 16,481,000 francs.

Monte Carlo casino, which is not a French casino, had a yearly "kitty" of 112,500,000 francs. (The franc at present is worth about 3¼ cents.)

No Wonder

New York.—Lucresia Bori of the Metropolitan spends more than $25,000 a year on her stage wardrobe and $15,000 for other clothes. And so, she says, that's why she's always poor. The company would provide costumes for her, but she prefers to design and buy her own.

Yale's Beauty

New Haven, Conn.—The handsomest senior at Yale is Riddle Cottle of Buffalo, star halfback. He is also the most modest.

Every knock is a boost, except when one woman knocks another and then it is nothing but a knock.

Concrete streets, like concrete roads, meet all the requirements of modern traffic

Roanoke's Fine Streets Match This Famous Concrete Road

Not so many years ago Roanoke, Virginia, was little more than a struggling country town. Today it is a fine modern city of 65,000—one of the leading commercial and manufacturing centers of the New South.

Anybody who has motored in and around Roanoke knows the famous Mill Mountain Road—"The Concrete Road to the Sky."

Matching the appearance of this beautiful highway, the city has thousands of square yards of aristocratic concrete streets.

There is Patterson Avenue, laid more than ten years ago.

Also the streets of charming Clermont, one of the city's finest subdivisions.

And Roanoke has paved many of its streets in the market and wholesale districts with concrete.

On all of these sturdy streets maintenance has been merely nominal.

Both from the standpoint of appearance and of lasting economy, concrete is the ideal pavement for any town or city.

Note in Bottle Tells of Gold in Canada

Norway, Maine. — Do the bones of two human skeletons stand as the gruesome monument to a great gold field?

Woodbury Russell resolves this question in his mind as he plans trips in search of the yellow metal. He has abandoned interest in the search and gives all the information he possesses to the public.

His information is contained in a note found floating in a tightly-corked bottle below the falls at Clark City, on the St. Margaret river, in Canada. The note reads:

"Whoever finds this bottle, there is gold and in plenty 25 miles above the falls. My chum, Jack, is dead, and I am freezing to death."

Russell, a contractor and builder, went with his brother and several other men to do construction work at Clark City, Canada. Here they found the bottle and made their first successful trip in search of the mentioned gold.

Identify Fish

New York.—It is possible for a fish cast upon the waters to return. The federal fisheries people put some infant mackerel in Massachusetts water two years ago with identifying marks. One of them, just caught off Cape May, N. J., weighs one and one-half pounds.

Oysters Catch Cold; 600,000 Pearls Lost

Tokyo.—Because oysters, like humans, are subject to head colds, a loss of more than 600,000 embryonic cultured pearls is estimated to have been suffered by pearl raisers of Ago bay near Nagoya.

Ago bay is the center of Japan's cultured pearl industry. Here tiny seeds implanted in oysters grow into rich necklaces. The season's drought is said to have caused the water of the bay to become extremely cold and the change in temperature, experts said, resulted in the parent oysters' catching cold and dying.

BREADS AND BISCUITS AS 3 EXPERT COOKS MAKE THEM

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on cooking which 6 famous cooks are contributing to this paper.)

Bread can be much more than the uninteresting, prosaic "staff of life." It can be made so delicious that you eat it because you want to, not because you think you ought to. Famous cooks have unearthed many delicious bread and biscuit recipes from various parts of the country for you. Follow their recipes for pleasing variety in breads.

MRS. SARAH T. RORER

Easy Bran Muffins

Mrs. Rorer, the Philadelphia cooking expert, recommends her bran muffins for breakfast. They are very nutritious and healthful, too. "One might paraphrase the old saying into 'a bran muffin a day keeps the doctor away.' It would hold just as true.

"These muffins are easily made," she affirms. "Into one egg, add a cup of milk, half teaspoon salt, one tablespoonful sugar, and one tablespoonful melted butter. Sift one cupful flour with three level teaspoons baking powder, and bake in a hot oven, in greased gem pans for 25 minutes."

Nuts for Nourishment

Mrs. Rorer has a very appetizing and nourishing nut bread, too. Here's how to make it:

"The ingredients needed to make a half dozen: Put two cupfuls flour in a bowl, add four level teaspoons of baking powder, half a teaspoon salt, and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Mix well. Then add one egg, beaten, and one cupful of milk, mix and add the flour. Beat well, and turn at once into a greased bread pan.

Let stand 10 minutes. Light oven a minute before putting in loaf. Bake about 1 hour in moderate heat. Raisins may be substituted for nuts.

Nut bread makes very good sandwiches if spread with butter. Cream cheese may also be used for a simple, delicious filling.

Southern Corn Bread

Corn bread, that favorite of the South, is another nutritious dish. Here is the recipe of Miss Sara Michaelis, famous New Orleans cook. It's a welcome part of any meal. Here are the ingredients:

2 cups cornmeal
1 teaspoonful salt
2 eggs
1 tablespoonful baking powder
1½ tablespoonfuls shortening
2 cups water (or milk, or the two mixed)

Sift corn meal, salt, soda and baking powder together. Add water or milk, and yolks of eggs and shortening which has been heated. Beat well, and add whites of eggs. Put into a hot greased pan, and bake in hot oven. This can be served with butter or with syrup.

Real Beaten Biscuits

If you have a patient right arm you are bound to make successful beaten biscuits. This is another old southern recipe of Miss Michaelis'.

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon of lard
1 pint of milk
1 teaspoon salt

What 30 Years of Cooking taught Mrs. Rorer about Stoves

By MRS. SARAH TYSON RORER
Philadelphia Cooking Expert

"I PREFER oil stoves to any other kind. I speak from the fullness of 30 years' experience with them. Oil is clean, economical, and dependable. It saves a world of work. No coal or wood to carry in, no ashes to carry out. And no dust.

"I have just completed a special experiment on the 1926 model Perfection Oil Stove, testing it under all possible cooking conditions. I cooked many meals in my own kitchen. Every dish was deliciously cooked.

Immediate Cooking

"Steak began to broil and my molasses cake began to rise almost as soon as I lighted the burners. There was no waiting for the heat to 'come up.'

"The bottom of every utensil used in the experiment was as clean as a china dish. No scouring was necessary. Those long Perfection chimneys certainly are insurance against sooty kettles.

All at the Same Time

"I cooked many things at once. For boiling beef I used a very low flame. I French-fried potatoes over a hot flame with yellow tips about 1½ inches high above the blue area. I cooked white sauce over a medium flame.

"I used all grades of heat at the same time satisfactorily.

All flames remained steady and even. They did not creep or 'crawl.' This is a real blessing to the cook. She can forget her stove and keep her mind on her cooking.

"Very Well Satisfied"

"Altogether I was very well satisfied with the Perfection Stove. And, my good opinion of oil stoves has increased, if that is possible."

4,500,000 In Use

The other five famous cooks were enthusiastic about the 1926 Perfection, too. And every day 4,500,000 women get real cooking satisfaction from their Perfections. You, too, will get the most cooking satisfaction the year around when you cook on the latest model Perfection.

See the complete line at any dealer's today. All sizes, from a one-burner model at $6.75 to large, five-burner range at $120.00.

Buy the stove endorsed by Mrs. Rorer and the other five famous cooks, the 1926 Perfection.

Manufactured by PERFECTION STOVE COMPANY Cleveland, Ohio

MRS. RORER is one of the six famous cooks who just completed a novel cooking test on the Perfection Stove. Others are: Miss Lucy G. Allen, Boston; Miss Margaret Allen Hall, Battle Creek; Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans; Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Belle De Graf, San Francisco.

Clean, Even Cooking Heat

The long chimneys of the Perfection burn every drop of the oil before it reaches the kettle. Thus you get clean, even cooking heat free from soot and smoke.

You can be doubly sure of this sort of heat when you use a pure water-white Kerosene that burns cleanly, evenly and without odor —"Standard" Kerosene. It is specially refined.

All impurities that might cause smoke or leave deposits of soot are removed. This assures the maximum amount of heat. By sticking to "Standard" Kerosene you are sure of best results from your Perfection. Insist on it. You can buy it anywhere.
